became a collection of essays that ducks and weaves between all of the worry and uncertainty the pandemic brought with it and the seasons of life that continued regardless i found myself writing about the beginning of my second act as a mother week after week i kept notes on the therapy of puppy school on relationships with language on books on friendship on regret the pandemic is there in this book of course humming in the background drawing the lines we had to stay within dominating what we read what we listened to expanding our vocabulary with new terms and ideas pissing me off pissing us all off but it isn't everything because as i came to realise it wasn't everything how could it be in the seaside town of tarrin's bay two neighbors form a bond but can they truly open the doors and let each other in distracting herself from a streak of bad luck and a disastrous love life bubbly april vedora throws herself into her new business april's glow a candle store in tarrin's bay the enchanting scents and colorful atmosphere provide a safe haven but outside of business hours she's still clueless about what the next step in her life should be when a mysterious loner moves in next door she can't help feeling intrigued and ex soldier zac masterson is equally fascinated by april but both have sworn off relationships and while april avoids her emotions by keeping busy and sociable zac hides away from the world and his past as the pair chip away at each other's facades and secrets are revealed april fears that the man she's unwillingly falling for is everything she's worked so hard to avoid or could they each be just what the other needs václav polívka 1927 1971 was born into czechoslovakia's elite roughly eight years after the country emerged from the ruins of austria hungary in this diary which was found in an attic in oslo norway in 2012 the young medical student with a strong interest in classical music describes three crucial years for europe which beginning in 1945 was moving from world war with nazi occupation to cold war with communist dictatorship in the summers of 1946 and 1947 václav travels to denmark where he meets a young danish woman vibeke hauer with whom he falls in love and later marries in this respect václav polivka's diary is a czech nordic love story with a happy ending but czechoslovakia would not enjoy such good fortune almost immediately after the country was liberated polívka expresses his doubts about the intentions of the russians he realizes early on that indoctrination censorship and outright lies do not bode well for the future of freedom and he shares his thoughts with surprising clarity in the pages of his diary the kenya gazette is an official publication of the government of the republic of kenya it contains
